IN THE WORDS OF JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER - "OWN NOTHING, CONTROL EVERYTHING"

Known primarily for Foreclosure Defense, legal services involving Quiet Title Action, lender fraud, and violations related to Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), Community Trust Network is dedicated to helping homeowners and families protect their most prized possessions through the use of trusts and easy-to-understand and affordable estate protection techniques enjoyed mainly by the rich and famous.

While placing your home into a land trust or living trust has become increasingly popular, the experts at Community Trust Network takes it one step further by providing unique and customized solutions for each client, instead of a one size fits all approach. Community Trust network shares the importance of privacy when it comes to what you own.

The firm's Business Manager, Randy Rosado, says "Most people don't realize the liability created by having property in their name until it's too late and they've gotten sued. Any book about wealth, whether it's by Robert Kyosaki, Donald Trump, or Warren Buffett, they all emphasize the importance of protecting your wealth.

It all goes back to the concept behind the famous quote by John D. Rockefeller, 'Own nothing, control everything.' But most people don't understand what that means because it's not taught in high school or college, and not in the standard MBA program. It's the language of wealthy, and it's only shared and understood in elite circles."
